

PHMS Instructional News!

Beginning on October 15th, all instruction at the middle school will be presented through Livestream or Screencastify/Loom videos posted to Google Classroom. This is for both Hybrid & Remote Students! Please see each of your child's teachers' Google Classrooms for further instructions on which model they will be using and how they can participate.

It is mandatory for all students to join virtual meetings for each one of their classes on All-Remote Wednesdays; students are encouraged to participate in their classes' meetings the remaining days of the week.

Students are expected to log in to view the instructional videos or attend the class meeting during the regular class times each day. This will assure that they receive the instruction they need and any additional support they require to master concepts. Please have your child follow their regular school schedule regardless of whether they are hybrid or remote.

Below is the schedule they should follow:
